

HOW TO BE A GOOD VETERINARY COLLEAGUE?*

Don't discriminate

Communicate openly and honestly

Never denigrate a colleague in front of others

Support and play an active part in professional organizations

Respect your colleagues

Provide clear and comprehensive notes for referral patients

Be aware of the health, wellbeing and safety of yourself and of fellow colleagues

Consider (early) mediation to resolve conflicts

Share your knowledge and give your support, especially to younger colleagues

Commit to continuing professional education

Allow and listen to criticism
